*Some parents ask for a 'private' Baptism; however, we invite you to consider that in the Church's tradition, children from more than one family are Baptised together, as this exemplifies one of the fruits of this sacrament; namely: Baptism makes us members of God's family. For this reason, in the Rite of Baptism, the priest says to each child, calling them by name, "The Christian community welcomes you with great joy."

Who can Be a Godparent?

In addition to you as the parents, the role of the godparents are threefold: (1) to present your child for Baptism; (2) represent the wider faith-community of which your child is being initiated; and (3) helping your child to respond faithfully to the grace of Baptism by being true to his or her identity as a son or daughter of God which this sacrament makes them become. For this reason, godparents are asked in the Rite of Baptism, "Are you willing to help the parents of this child in their duty as Christian parents?" Choosing someone to be a godparent is, therefore, an important decision. Not everyone qualifies to be a Godparent. According to the Catholic Church's requirements,<sup>1</sup> each godparent must be:

- not either the biological or adoptive father or mother of the person to be Baptised;
- at least 16 years of age, for each godparent needs to be mature;
- a Catholic who has received the Sacraments of the Eucharist and Confirmation, for only a fully initiated Catholic is able to represent the worshipping community in which the child is to be Baptised. For this reason, it is not possible for an unbaptised person to be a godparent or Christian witness;<sup>2</sup>
- someone who lives a life of faith which befits the role to be undertaken, that is, someone who is not publicly known to be breaking one or more of the Ten Commandments in a major way. For only those who exemplify the Christian life can be a model of faith for your child;
- male and female. It is possible to have just one godparent, but it is traditional to have two. If it is part of your culture to have more than two godparents, you need to designate a male and female for the parish records.

Godparents are encouraged to attend the Baptism Preparation Program with the parents, as they have an important role in helping to foster the spiritual life of the child.

<sup>2</sup>A non-Catholic Christian who has been Baptised with water in the name of the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit may not be a godparent, but he or she can simply be a Christian witness to the Baptism, provided that the child to be baptised has a Catholic godparent.
