A Message from the Archdiocese of Sydney

Child sexual abuse is a crime. The appropriate people to deal with a crime are the police. If you, or anyone you know, have been abused, please contact the police. Alternatively, you can contact the Safeguarding & Ministerial Integrity Office at (02) 9390 5810 or safeguardingenquiries@sydneycatholic.org

You may also want to speak to your Parish Priest who will be able to provide support and guidance. The Archdiocese has a legal obligation to report crimes to the police.

This Parish pays respect to the Cadigal People of the Eora Nation, the traditional custodians of this land.

Eighth Sunday in Ordinary Time—Year C

Entrance Antiphon

Cf. Ps 17:19-20

The Lord became my protector.
He brought me out to a place of freedom;
he saved me because he delighted in me.

1st Reading

Sir 27:4-7

A reading from the book of Ecclesiasticus
Do not praise someone before they have spoken.

In a shaken sieve the rubbish is left behind, so too the defects of a man appear in his talk.
The kiln tests the work of the potter,
the test of a man is in his conversation.
The orchard where the tree grows is judged on the quality of Its fruits, similarly a man's words betray what he feels.
Do not praise a man before he has spoken,
since this is the test of men.

Responsorial Psalm Ps 91:2-3. 13-16. R. See v.2

(R.) Lord, it is good to give thanks to you.

Second Reading

1 Cor 15:54-58

A reading from the first letter of St Paul to the Corinthians Victory has been given to us through Jesus Christ.

When this perishable nature has put on imperishability, and when this mortal nature has put on immortality, then the words of scripture will come true: Death is swallowed up in victory. Death, where is your victory? Death, where is your sting? Now the sting of death is sin, and sin gets its power from the Law. So let us thank God for giving us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

Never give in then, my dear brothers, never admit defeat;
keep on working at the Lord's work always, knowing that, in the Lord, you cannot be labouring in vain.

Gospel Acclamation

Phil 2:15-16

Alleluia, alleluia!
Shine on the world like bright stars;
you are offering it the word of life.
Alleluia!

Gospel

Lk 6:39-45

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Luke
A person speaks from what is in his heart.

Jesus told a parable to his disciples, 'Can one blind man guide another? Surely both will fall into a pit? The disciple is not superior to his teacher; the fully trained disciple will always be like his teacher. Why do you observe the splinter in your brother's eye and never notice the plank in your own?
How can you say to your brother, "Brother, let me take out the splinter that is in your eye," when you cannot see the plank in your own? Hypocrite! Take the plank out of your own eye first, and then you will see clearly enough to take out the splinter that is in your brother's eye.

'There is no sound tree that produces rotten fruit, nor again a rotten tree that produces sound fruit. For every tree can be told by its own fruit: people do not pick figs from thorns, nor gather grapes from brambles. A good man draws what is good from the store of goodness in his heart; a bad man draws what is bad from the store of badness. For a man's words flow out of what fills his heart.'

Communion Antiphon

Cf. Ps 12:6

I will sing to the Lord who has been bountiful with me, sing psalms to the name of the Lord Most High.

Pastoral Notes

- Lent begins next Wednesday
- Ash Wednesday and Good Friday are days of fast and abstinence. The law of fasting binds those who have completed their eighteenth year, until the beginning of their sixtieth year; the law of abstinence binds those who have completed their fourteenth year (CCL 97, 1251f).
- Lent is a penitential season of prayer, self-denial and helping others. In this way, the whole Church prepares for Easter with those who are to be baptised. Other celebrations in Lent (e.g. marriage) must take account of the spirit of penance: musical instruments are only used to sustain singing, and floral decorations are very simple.
- Catholics are obliged to receive holy communion at least once a year, in Australia and New Zealand between Ash Wednesday and Trinity Sunday.

Dear Friends,

Today's gospel passage [Luke 6:39-41] is the second last section of his sermon on the plain. It reads like a series of disjointed and disconnected group of sayings, but on closer analysis it contains some very important and fundamental material for the daily living out of Jesus' teachings.

Today's gospel passage can be divided into four sections:

V. 39-40: Jesus told a parable to his disciples, 'Can one blind man guide another? Surely both will fall into a pit? The disciple is not superior to his teacher; the fully trained disciple will always be like his teacher.

V. 41-42: Why do you observe the splinter in your brother's eye and never notice the plank in your own? How can you say to your brother, "Brother, let me take out the splinter that is in your eye," when you cannot see the plank in your own? Hypocrite! Take the plank out of your own eye first, and then you will see clearly enough to take out the splinter that is in your brother's eye.

V. 43-44: 'There is no sound tree that produces rotten fruit, nor again a rotten tree that produces sound fruit. For every tree can be told by its own fruit: people do not pick figs from thorns, nor gather grapes from brambles.

V. 45: A good man draws what is good from the store of goodness in his heart; a bad man draws what is bad from the store of badness. For a man's words flow out of what fills his heart.'

These sayings then can provide us with the necessary material for us to be formed as true disciples of Jesus. We are challenged to recognise the fact that through our words and actions we can form others – either positively or negatively. This rings true especially if we hold an influential position within our community. Notwithstanding this, we need to understand that we, through the living out of our Baptismal call, are the presence of Jesus to others. It is a sobering thought to realise that people can either accept or reject Jesus and his teachings on our words and behaviours [V39-40].

We are challenged to realise that we need to get our own lives in order before we can begin to even comment on the condition of the lives of others. Through a very exaggerated example Jesus states how difficult it is to take out a speck from our neighbour's eye when we have a plank in our own. Correcting and even condemning others while we are not at rights with God can be such an easy thing to do. The events of the past few days have shown us how easy it is to step into the role of acting as judge over the actions of others. Correction of others begins with our self-examination. [V. 41-42].

It is important for us to realise that we can only be judged by our actions. One of the greatest characteristics of Jesus' life is the fact that his words are seen in his actions. In Jesus, there is no disparity between what he says and what he does [V. 43-44].

Lastly, we are asked to consider that the condition of our hearts – our spiritual lives – becomes the basis of what emerges from us. In other words, we cannot give what we do not have. Our deeds emanate from our intentions. [V.45].

The message of this Gospel passage comes at an appropriate time as we begin our Lenten journey this week. Lent, being a time dedicated to prayer, fasting and alms giving, is an opportune time for us to be immersed in a deep self-examination and then to take the appropriate steps to adjust our lives according to the Gospel values and message. These last three weeks have presented us with some challenging material from Luke in the form of Jesus' sermon on the plain. This is beneficial material for our mediation, prayer and mission as we begin our Lenten journey this Wednesday.
